

QED CONTROLLED DRUGS CRT CABINETS

QED Controlled Drug CRT cabinets provide top security and compliance for storing controlled substances.

The QED CD-CRT Cabinets are all fully compliant with all current legislation for the storage of controlled drugs, including the Misuse of Drugs (Safe Custody) Regulations 1973, and BS2881 and BS3621 standards.

Not only do they provide secure storage for controlled drugs, the CD-CRT Cabinets feature integrated temperature control that keeps drugs in room temperature conditions, which helps to effectively maintain drug efficacy and reduce waste.

REDUCING MEDICINAL WASTE

Controlled drugs typically need to be stored below 25°C to maintain their effectiveness, especially during warmer weather.

The QED CD-CRT Cabinets provide a reliable solution, helping to prevent medicine spoilage and reduce waste caused by improper storage.

HIGH SECURITY

Each cabinet is supplied with appropriate fixings for a solid wall and features an anti-pick, anti-jemmy lock, ensuring maximum security and protection against unauthorised access. This meets security requirements for the storage of controlled substances.

TEMPERATURE CONTROL

The temperature of the CD-CRT Cabinets is factory set to control between 15°C and 25°C, with accurate readings shown on the digital display. If temperatures move outside of this range, integrated audio-visual alarms instantly alert you, so you can take action right away.

CRT CABINET COMPATIBLE

Certain sizes of the QED Controlled Room Temperature Cabinets and QED Wall Mounted CRT Cabinets can be fitted with the QED Controlled Drug Cabinet.

This offers a convenient, space-saving solution to those requiring temperature controlled storage for both general medication and controlled drugs, all whilst remaining compliant with the necessary security legislations.
